

AMENDMENT AND COMPILATION OF CHAPTER 3-172
HAWAII ADMINISTRATIVE RULES

The Chief Election Officer proposes a new administrative rule, HAR § 3-172- 71.1, to address the methodology for ordering ballots. Additionally, he proposes an amendment to an existing administrative rule, HAR § 3-172-99, to clarify how ballots will be counted if a voter votes on a ballot that contains contests that the voter is not eligible to vote on. Finally, as these proposed changes would be made to chapter 3-172, Hawaii Administrative Rules, the chapter will need to be compiled. Attached is the proposed amendment and compilation of chapter 3-172, Hawaii Administrative Rules, that contains the proposed administrative rule and the proposed amendment to an existing administrative rule.

SUBCHAPTER 7

BALLOT PRINTING AND DELIVERY

§3-172-70 Candidate vacancies; filling of by party .

(a) In case of death, withdrawal, or disqualification of any party candidate after filing, the vacancy so caused may be filled by the party. If the party chooses to fill the vacancy, the party chairperson or the chair's designated representative, shall submit a written notice to the chief election officer, or clerk in the case of a county office, not later than 4:30 p.m. on the third day after the vacancy occurs, but not later than 4:30 p.m. on the fiftieth day prior to a primary or special primary or not later than 4:30 p.m. on the fortieth day prior to a special, general, or special general election.

(b) The written notice from the party chairperson, or chair's designated representative, shall contain:

- (1) The name of the party;
- (2) The office to be filled;
- (3) A statement that the party nominates the candidate named to fill the vacancy;
- (4) The name, address, and telephone number(s) of the candidate being nominated;
- (5) The candidate's name as it should appear on the ballot;
- (6) An acknowledgment that the candidate accepts the nomination; and
- (7) The signature and title of the person submitting the notice.

(c) Any candidate nominated by a party to fill a candidate vacancy shall not be required to file nomination papers or to pay a filing fee.

(d) If the third day after the vacancy occurs is a Saturday, Sunday, or holiday, then the chief election officer, or clerk in the case of a county office, shall open the office to receive the written notices to fill the vacancy from the parties. The chief election officer shall notify the party chairperson that the office will be open to receive the notice. No extension of time will be allowed.

(e) If the party fails to fill the vacancy within the time specified in HRS §11-118, then no candidate's name shall be printed on the ballot for the party for that race. [Eff 01/09/10; comp] (Auth: HRS §11-4) (Imp: HRS §§11-117, 11-118)

§3-172-71 Official ballots. The design and arrangement of the ballot shall meet the requirements of the voting system. The maximum number of candidates or ballot questions for which the voter is legally entitled to vote in any given case shall be clearly indicated. [Eff 01/09/10; comp] (Auth: HRS §11-4) (Imp: HRS §§11-112, 11-119)

§3-172-71.1 Ballot order; ballots for polling place.

(a) In order to provide a sufficient number of ballots based on the number of registered voters and the expected spoilage in an election, the chief election officer or designee shall order the equivalent of 110% of the voter registration count of a voting precinct. The voter registration count of a voting precinct for purposes of this rule, shall be the voter registration count existing at the close of registration under section 11-24, Hawaii Revised Statutes. For example, if the voter registration count is 2,000, the minimum order would be 2,200 ballots.

(b) The chief election officer shall divide these ballots between the election day polling places and the county clerk for absentee voting, based on the election day polling place and absentee turnout for the precinct for the last regularly scheduled election of the same type. The last regularly scheduled election of the same type refers to the last primary election or the last general election. For example, if the polling place turnout for the last regularly scheduled general election was 20% of all registered voters in the precinct and the absentee turnout was 30% of all registered voters in the precinct, the ballot order for the upcoming general election would be divided with 40% of the ballots to be delivered to, and used in, the polling place in the precinct and 60% of the ballots ordered to be used for absentee voting (i.e. a ballot order of 2,200 ballots for a voting precinct would consist of 880 polling place ballots and 1,320 absentee ballots). To the extent a prior regularly scheduled election of the same type occurred prior to a recent reapportionment, the chief election officer will approximate what the comparable voting precinct's polling place and absentee turnout was.

(c) The chief election officer may deviate from the above division of ballots, if there is evidence to support the conclusion that the division of ballots will not be substantially similar for an upcoming election. For example, if the percentage of absentee ballot applications for a voting precinct for the upcoming election increases significantly over comparable elections in the past.

(d) In regard to the ballots that a polling place is to receive, the chief election officer may provide for a portion of those ballots to be held in reserve at another location on election day, so long as those ballots can be delivered to the polling place in a timely manner. Ballots may be held in reserve in order to address concerns that having all of the ballots at the polling place may put the election at risk (e.g. a fire, natural disaster, or other incident at the polling place could compromise the ballots that are there and necessitate the deployment of reserve ballots).

(e) Beginning on the ninetieth day prior to an election, the county clerk shall monitor on a daily basis the absentee voting activity for a precinct and inform the chief election officer daily of how many absentee ballots have been requested, issued, and returned for each precinct. The chief election officer may designate any excess absentee ballots to serve as reserve ballots.

(f) The chief election officer may order additional ballots, above and beyond the previously mentioned 110% of the voter registration count, for testing, demonstration, reserve, or similar election purposes. The provisions of subsections (b) through (d) regarding the percentage of ballots that should be assigned for polling place or absentee voting purposes shall not apply to these additional ballots. Said additional ballots may be assigned or used as the chief election officer deems appropriate. [Eff and comp] (Auth: HRS §§11-4, 11-119) (Imp: HRS §11-119)

§3-172-72 Ballots; delivery; seal certification procedure; delivery and collection team . Each DC team shall be comprised of two election officials not of the same political affiliation.

(b) Whenever the custody of ballots is transferred, the election officials delivering and receiving the ballots shall conduct the following seal certification procedure:

- (1) Ensure that the ballot transport containers and ballot boxes are properly closed and sealed;
- (2) Compare the seal numbers on the ballot transport containers and ballot boxes with the seal numbers recorded on the ballot seal control form or other appropriate form as prescribed by the chief election officer;

§3-172-73 Ballots; transportation and receipt at polling places . representatives of the chief election officer or clerk.

(b) A precinct official shall be at the polling place at least one hour before the time set for opening the polls, or according to such other schedule prepared by the chief election officer, clerk, or designated representative, to receive the ballots which shall be delivered by the DC Team.

(c) Ballots transported to the precinct by the DC Team may be left at the polling place provided that at least one precinct official is present to receive and sign for the sealed ballot transport containers.

(d) Upon receipt of the sealed ballot transport containers, the receiving officials shall conduct the seal certification process defined in section 3-172-72.

(e) The ballot transport containers shall be unsealed and opened at the polling place prior to the opening of the polls on election day and only in the presence of two precinct officials not of the same political party.

(f) The precinct officials shall compare the ballot serial numbers with the ballot seal control form to determine the quantity of ballots. Discrepancies shall be reported immediately to the chief election officer, clerk, or designated representative and shall be recorded on the ballot seal control form.

(g) In a precinct which cannot be reached by road within one hour from the clerk's office in each county, as may be determined by the chief election officer, clerk, or designated representative, the ballots may be delivered by representatives of the chief election officer or clerk, to the chairperson of the precinct officials or designated election officials prior to election day; provided that the ballot transport containers shall remain sealed and shall be unsealed only at the polling place prior to the opening of the polls and in the presence of at least two precinct officials not of the same political party. Discrepancies shall be recorded on the ballot transport container shipping form and reported immediately to the ballot delivery contractors and the chief election officer or designated representative.

(c) The clerk or designated representative shall compare the ballot serial numbers with the ballot transport container shipping form to determine the quantity of ballots. Discrepancies shall be recorded on the ballot transport container shipping form and reported immediately to the chief election officer or designated representative.

- (A) Ballots that were marked for use by a marksense ballot voting system, will be counted in accordance with those rules associated with that system to the extent reasonably possible. Any hand count of marksense ballots will not utilize any statute or rules associated with the paper ballot voting system, as those marking instructions and vote disposition rules are uniquely different from those statutes and rules associated with other voting systems.
- (B) Voter verifiable paper audit trails from a direct recording electronic device voting system will be counted in accordance with the ballot selections indicated on them.

(d) The chief election will, to the extent possible, resolve any misreporting problem, prior to the end of the contest period stated in HRS §11-173.5, in the case of a primary, or special primary election, or HRS §11-174.5, in the case of a general, special general, or special election. If the precinct turnout, according to the computer, is less than the turnout the pollbook indicates this shall constitute an underage.
